Thousands Homeless In Wake of High Winds

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Typhoon Pamela smashed across northern Formosa today, killing at least 17 persons, leaving thousands homeless, and ravaging this capital of Nationalist China. The great storm, with maximum winds of 135 miles an hour, was the worst in the memory of long-time residents of Formosa.

None of the Americans in this city of 320,000 was injured, but some were isolated by flash floods.

Strike Issue Settled

Relief Time Was No. 1 Strike Issue

DETROIT (AP) — The issue that triggered a snowballing plant-by-plant strike against General Motors Corp. by the United Auto Workers Union was settled overnight.

When agreement came, 92 GM plants were shut across the nation and 255,000 men were idle, with indications that the remainder of GM's 129 plants and 350,000 production workers would be idled in a matter of days, if not hours.

The No. 1 issue on which local-level strikes started erupting Monday was the amount of relief time afforded assembly and production line workers.

An all-night bargaining session Sunday failed to resolve the dispute and carried new contract negotiations past Monday's 10 a. m. strike deadline.

But within four hours after a fresh start Monday night agreement was reached on a formula reportedly suggested by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther predicted settlement of the relief time issue would materially speed wrapping up of a new three-year contract between his union and the world's largest automaker. They have agreed on an economic package which the union estimates is worth 12.04 cents hourly in take-home pay.

Several issues left dangling at the national level included: production standards (required work per hour), the scheduling of overtime for employed men when some employees are on layoff, the time union representatives may spend in the processing of grievances on company-paid time, and work done by foremen which the union insists should be done by hourly workers.

Still dangling at the local-level were 11,811 demands ranging from factory air-conditioning and air cushions for truck drivers to automatic permission to take time off for deer hunting.

Area Plays Host To Evacuated Troops, Planes

Whiteman Air Force Base and the Sedalia area are currently hosting a large number of U. S. Air Force aircraft and personnel who have been evacuated from the Gulf Coast region in the face of Hurricane Carla.

Base information officials said many of the personnel have sought quarters in Sedalia hotels and motels as base facilities are not sufficient to take care of them.

Evacuation of aircraft at bases on the Gulf Coast began late last week to protect the planes from storm damage. Whiteman is one of several midwestern bases housing the visiting planes and personnel.

Information officials at the base said the length of the stay depends on how long the hurricane continues.

Pilot Examinations Slated at Whiteman

A board of Federal Aeronautics Administration Examiners will arrive at Whiteman AFB Thursday, to administer examinations for private and commercial pilot, flight instructor, and Airman and Electronics ratings.

The exams will begin at 6:30 p. m. in Building S-49, the briefing room for the 486-487th Bomb Squadrons.

Not Yet

Regardless of what we think of our weatherman today, we can be thankful he hasn't turned loose a hurricane or tornado on us.

Cloudy with heavy rain and thundershowers tonight and Wednesday; cooler Wednesday. Low tonight 65-70; high Wednesday around 70.

The temperature Tuesday was 71 at 7 a. m. and 87 at 1 p. m. Low Monday night was 68, with .02 inches of rainfall.

The temperature one year ago today was, high 81; low 49; two years ago, high 78; low 43; three years ago, high 80; low 49.

Lake of Ozark stage: 55.5 feet; 4.5 below full reservoir; down .2.

Jobless Drop Is Forecast

Business Gains Are Expected To Give Relief

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department reported today a good chance that unemployment will drop below 4 million in October.

The department issued its detailed analysis of the August job picture of which Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg had already given highlights.

The report showed that both business payrolls and total non-farm employment, as well as over-all employment, reached a record high for August but joblessness clung to the recession rate of 6.9 per cent.

The department's manpower expert, Dr. Seymour Wolfbein, told reporters the August total of idle men and women, 4,542,000, reflects "a pretty sticky problem."

Nevertheless there are signs that it is yielding to continued gains in business, he said.

If unemployment follows a strictly seasonal pattern it will drop to about 4.2 million this month and 4 million in October, Wolfbein said.

"We think there is a good chance that we will get better than the seasonal performance," he added.

$183,400 For Civil Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon has allotted $183,400 to Missouri and $118,600 to Kansas for personnel and administrative costs in their Civil Defense programs.

The funds must be matched by the states and localities on a 50-50 basis.

It was the first allotment since the Defense Department took control of Civil Defense from the Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization.

The allocation represents part of a plan to strengthen state and local Civil Defense programs, the Pentagon said. The money is apart from the $207 million which Congress voted for the start of a fallout shelter program.

Lioness Mauls Man

CAT MAULING ZOOKEEPER—A 350-pound lioness mauled and chewed on Lynn Hudson, 19-year-old zoo keeper in Lincoln Park Zoo in Oklahoma City, Hudson spent a harrowing 20-minutes in the den but was reported in satisfactory condition despite being clawed and bitten in the stomach, arms, chest and neck. A pistol bullet also hit him in the arm when another attendant fired three times at the lioness. She was hit in the head but not severely wounded. A zoo visitor snapped this picture and sent it to the Daily Oklahoman from his Allison, Tex., home.

Tornado Follows Carla

Six Are Killed, Scores Injured

GALVESTON, Tex., (AP) — The staggering backlash of hurricane Carla spawned a lethal, pre-dawn tornado in Galveston today, killing at least six persons and injuring between 50 and 60 others.

Police, digging through the mounds of collapsed homes, said they feared the toll would grow higher when the rubble is cleared.

Brad Messer, assistant executive editor of the Galveston News-Tribune, walked through the 2-by-6 block devastated area and said an estimated 100 wood homes had been crushed.

Tides three feet deep covered the tornado area, making rescue and relief difficult.

Carla, which touched land Monday with blasts reaching an estimated 173 miles an hour at one point, late this morning centered 200 miles inland between Austin and Waco and headed for southern Oklahoma.

The Weather Bureau called it a "decaying storm" with gale winds of 55 miles an hour extending 200 miles to the north and east.

"It looks as if this will be the largest single insurance loss the country has ever experienced," said Darby Hammond, Dallas executive director of Southwestern Insurance Information Service.

John White, state farm commissioner, estimated farm loss at $140 million.

Galveston officials estimated hurricane losses up to $18 million before the tornado struck. Corpus Christi, Tex., authorities estimated that city's loss at $10 million.

At Port Arthur, Tex., near the Louisiana line, portions of a levee crumbled today, sending water slowly toward 50 or 60 homes in suburban Port Acres, Carl Moon of the sheriff's office said.

High tides thrown up by Carla still isolated many communities and cities, including Galveston. The Weather Bureau said the tides will subside slowly.

The Galveston tornado struck the courthouse as well as a residential area. About 1,200 hurricane refugees were sheltered in the courthouse and broken glass struck many.

Persons who died as a result of the hurricane included a 4-week-old child in Louisiana in a tornado Sunday; and Able D. Threton, 56, of Houston, killed when he stepped on a broken electric line Monday.

The Weather Bureau said that heavy rains—as much as 13 inches at Victoria, Tex., inland from the coast—will bring flooding of rivers and streams.

At Galveston, St. Mary's Catholic Cathedral and an adjoining school suffered extensive roof damage in the tornado. Police estimated that 30 to 60 cars were wrecked by the funnel's winds.

Freeport was the hardest hit by mountainous tides. That city southwest of Houston was evacuated while Carla was still 125 miles out in the gulf. The tides broke a levee and water poured through the city.

Multimillion-dollar plants of Dow Chemical Co. at Freeport were flooded. So was the nation's first salt water conversion plant.

City Council Fails To Reach Agreement

area. It was explained some 80 representatives were present at the meeting.

Smith explained the meeting at which he represented Sedalia in the absence of Mayor Silverman. He explained under the proposal for rate increase it would affect Sedalia users in the amount of an increase of $95,234 annually. He also explained Sedalia was asked to join with the others in helping to finance the fight and the city's fee would be approximately 2 percent of the amount of the proposed increase or $1,904. These fees would help to take care of legal costs and other items necessary in preparing briefs and such to combat the excessive high gas rates increase as proposed.

Following Smith's explanation L. O. Griffith Jr., of Pittsburgh Corning Corp., took the floor and explained he was not representing his corporation at this Council meeting, but was there as a member of the Board of Directors of the Mid-West Industries Association, an organization which is fighting such gas increase rates as have been and are being proposed by the Cities Service.

Griffith explained the organization has 102 members who have been carrying the fight against

Higginsville Man To Wildlife Staff

WASHINGTON (AP)—J. Clark Salyer, who has headed the nation's wildlife refuge system since it was organized in 1934, was appointed to a new post today.

He was named special staff assistant to the chief of the Division of Wildlife in the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

Salyer, whose sight has been critically affected in recent years, is a native of Higginsville, Mo. His salary will remain unchanged at $13,770 annually.

Congressmen Told

Cuban Invasion 'Not Ike's Idea'

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower may have started a new round of post mortems on the Cuban invasion by declaring that his outgoing administration had not drawn up an invasion plan.

Ever since the invasion was crushed at the Bay of Pigs last spring, it has been reported that President Kennedy inherited a detailed invasion plan with many armed units poised throughout the Caribbean area. All that remained for Kennedy, these reports said, was to give the go ahead signal.

But Eisenhower told a group of 33 freshman Republican congressmen Monday, "we had done nothing except to recognize that these Cuban refugees had a great desire to go back to Cuba, so we began organizing them and giving them weapons and training them. But beyond that we could not go, because at that time there was no recognized leader among the (refugee) Cubans."

He added, "I was not a consultant or adviser to the (Kennedy) administration in any way, of course."

A reporter went back to the question later, and Eisenhower amplified, "In March, 1960, we had a little meeting in my office as to whether to go ahead and train these people. We set up a little group to keep in touch. It was never any more than that."

The Central Intelligence Agency has been widely credited, without contradiction, with starting to line up the ill-fated invasion as much as a year before the landing.

Asked about his views on the Soviet Union's resumption of nuclear testing in the atmosphere, Eisenhower said he believed the Soviets have been secretly testing nuclear weapons during the three-year moratorium which ended Sept. 1 with the first shot in their new series.

Eisenhower covered a wide range of subjects in a setting

Travel Ban For Berlin Threatened

USSR Contends East Germany Has Regulatory Right

BERLIN (AP)—In a note assailing Western troop movements to Berlin, the Soviet Union has told the West that the Communist East German regime has the right to regulate foreign travel to East Berlin.

Rejecting an Aug. 26 note from the U. S. British and French ambassadors to West Germany protesting the sealing of the border in divided Berlin, the Soviets told the ambassadors Monday to take their complaints to the East German regime.

One major aim of Premier Khrushchev's pressure on Berlin is to force Western recognition of East Germany. The Western powers regard the East German regime as a Soviet puppet.

Mikhail Pervukhin, Soviet ambassador to East Germany, complained in his note that the Western powers had brought troop reinforcements to Berlin and had posted soldiers on West Berlin's border.

Pervukhin declared such troop movements could encourage "West Berlin's fascist and revenge-seeking elements" and this could result in serious consequences.

Foreigners now are admitted to East Berlin but Pervukhin's note raised the possibility that they soon would be barred. Foreigners may cross into East Berlin on subway and elevated trains or on foot and by car at a special gate at the corner of Friedrichstrasse and Zimmerstrasse.

Pervukhin's letter to U. S. Ambassador Walter C. Dowling was published Monday night by the East German news agency ADN.

Asked to Fight Gas Hike

City Council Fails To Reach Agreement

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

The City Council in a special called meeting, Monday night, failed to agree on a proposal to join with other Missouri and Kansas cities in fighting a proposed gas increase by the Cities Service Co., which furnishes natural gas to the Missouri Public Service Co., which in turn acts as a distributor of gas to various cities in Western Missouri. As a result, the proposal was tabled for further investigation until the next regular meeting, which is Monday Sept. 8.

The meeting was called by Councilman E. B. Smith, president pro-tem, acting as Mayor during the absence of Mayor Abe Silverman, who was in New York attending the funeral of his brother. The special meeting was presided over by Mayor Silverman who read the special call.

Councilman Smith, with City Counsellor John C. McCloskey, attended a meeting in Kansas City last Thursday which was presided over by Mayor H. Roe Bartle. Representatives of other cities were also present at this meeting in which was discussed the proposition of organizing to contest the Cities Service Co., request to the Federal Power Commission to raise the rates on gas serving the Missouri and Kansas

Two Arrested For Drag Racing On West 16th

A close watch by local officials in areas where "drag racing" has been reported led to the arrest of two Sedalians Monday night.

The two men are Wallace Lee Calvert, 1002 South Merriam, and Charles William Hurt, 325 North Quincy. They were arrested by Trooper William Southwick of the Highway Patrol on West 16th Street Road, an area reputed to be frequently used for drag racing.

The men were issued a Uniform Traffic Ticket and lodged in the Pettis County jail. Tuesday morning they were arraigned before Judge Frank Armstrong in Magistrate Court and charged on a state warrant for the alleged violation.

Judge Armstrong set the trial date for Sept. 30. On failure to meet a $1,000 release bond, the men were turned over to Sheriff Emmett Fairfax and returned to the jail.

Ann Landers Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I've been married for 15 years to a man who has no bad habits and is a good father. The problem is I can't get a dollar out of him.

We own a four-family flat. Six years ago when our janitor and maintenance man quit I took over "temporarily." Well, I'm still at it with no relief in sight. I'm a plumber's daughter so I know how to fix everything in that line. I can even fix the air-conditioners, and do a little carpenter work. I've papered and painted, varnished and laid linoleum when tenants have moved out so the flats would be rentable.

We have a vegetable garden in back and every year I put up 200 quarts of beets, tomatoes, carrots, dill pickles and asparagus. I do all this in addition to taking care of my own family which numbers six. When I ask my husband for a few dollars to get a permanent wave or a new pair of shoes he says "Wait till I die. You'll get everything." What can I do? — GETTING TIRED

Dear Getting: Take on one more job — collect the rent. At the rate you're going, Lady, YOU'LL die — and HELL get everything.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a woman 30 years of age and I have no major problems. I'd be very grateful if you'd print this letter as a means of educating some of the bores in this world.

I happen to have a few rather large warts on my face. My doctor has told me that they are not dangerous from a health standpoint, so I just forget they are there — until some ignoramus makes a vulgar remark. Will you please tell people that it is in the worst possible taste to make comments of this type? Thank you. — G. R.

Dear G. R.: It's your face — and you can grow anything on it you like, but why in the world would an intelligent woman choose to go through life with warts on her face when a dermatologist can remove them in his office during her lunch hour?

Of course it's terribly rude to comment on the warts, but you could solve the problem very easily, and at the same time improve your appearance. My earnest hope is that you will.

Dear Ann Landers: I used to think well of your advice but no more. In your column you always advise people to make friends through clubs, organizations and above all church groups.

My daughter, Hester, was an avid fan. She took your advice and joined a church group and that's where she met this man. She devoted herself to him completely for eighteen months. Then his wife showed up and threatened Hester with an alienation of affection suit. He had three children and a police record.

We were stunned. He seemed so respectable and decent. From now on you'd better think twice before you advise nice girls to meet men through church groups. A church offers an ideal front for scoundrels to hide behind. — STUNNED MOTHER

Dear Mother: Churches have rats, too, but that doesn't mean your daughter ought to go out with them.

No safeguard can match common sense and judgment. A girl who could go with a man for eighteen months and not pick up a single clue to his double life must be less than bright.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Record Crop Of Sorghum Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicts production of sorghum grain will reach a record of 44 bushels an acre this year, four above the record set last year.

The Department forecast this season's production at 480 million bushels—about 6 per cent above the estimate of last month but 20 per cent less than last year's record crop.

Favorable growing conditions in nearly all sorghum producing states pushed the average yield toward a new record. Record yields are expected in all producing states west of the Mississippi River except South Dakota and Arkansas.

The government feed grain program offered substantial incentives for reducing acreage and the acreage for harvest of grain, estimated at 10,901,000 acres, is nearly 30 per cent less than the acreage harvested last year. This is the smallest acreage since 1956, when only 9,209,000 acres were harvested for grain.

The four major producing states—Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska—this year will account for about 87 per cent of the total estimated production. The predicted production for these states as of Sept. 1: Texas, 229,635,000 bushels; Oklahoma, 18,688,000; Kansas, 109,511,000 and Nebraska, 60,894,000.

Foreign Policy Briefing Set In Kansas City

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chester Bowles, under secretary of state, and other State Department officials will conduct a four-state foreign policy briefing session in Kansas City Oct. 26.

Newspaper editors and radio and television personnel in Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska will be invited, along with some civic leaders, educators and heads of non governmental organizations.

Similar sessions have been held in Washington, San Francisco and Denver.

Television A Definite Male World

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Whatever else television may or may not be, it is still a man's world. Estimates of the proportion of employed actors compared with actresses run from a conservative 6 to 1 to 15 to 1.

The reason for this, of course, is the classic format of a weekly show. Producers like unmarried heroes for the action shows. Then they hire one pretty girl per week to drift into and out of his life. With very few exceptions, the big stars of television are men.

This approaching season looms as one which is even tougher than usual on women actresses who appreciate steady employment. One of the lucky few who have landed a solid, regular part in a new series is Marilyn Mawell, the blonde singer of scores of movies.

It will come as something of a surprise to those who remember her a playing pretty, blonde straight man to assorted comedians, notably including Bob Hope, but Marilyn will play a non-singing dramatic role in ABC's "Bus Stop" series, based very loosely on William Inge's hit play and subsequent movie of the same name.

"It's funny," reflected the actress, "but I was trained and started out as a dramatic actress. Then they found I could sing, and people began thinking of me as an actress who could sing. Then, during the war years when I did so much traveling and entertaining the troops, people started thinking of me as a singer who could act—and play straight for comedians."

"Now, finally, I'm back as an actress. I play Grace Sherwood, a widow in her mid-30s on the lookout for a man but not a man-hunter. I'm the owner of a restaurant at a bus stop and it's a good format—the stories are about people passing through."

And if you don't think the TV uses up material at a frightening rate, note this: the plot which made "Bus Stop" a successful play and movie will provide just one TV show—probably the fourth or fifth of the series.

NBC, which last season turned out a series of daytime specials concerned with the problems of women from their teens to the threshold of old age, will do another six during the coming months—but perhaps with its sights shifted. Title of the first, on Oct. 16, is "What's Wrong with American Men?"

"Wagon Train" will start its fifth journey west on Sept. 27 and it will be a repeat trip for some of its passengers, including Bette Davis and Ann Blyth who lived dangerously and suffered on previous trips.

Steve Allen doesn't plan to campaign for any of his favorite, serious causes on his new ABC variety hour, but he's still flirting with fire. In his opening show, Sept. 27, Steve will satirize the current federal inquiry into television programming, a subject the networks do not think is very funny.

NBC's "The Tall Man" resumed with new shows last week, and ABC's Donna Reed will go off repeats Wednesday evening.

"International Showtime," on NBC will have its premiere Friday, with Don Ameche acting as host on a taped performance of a Danish family circus. Fall has officially come to TV-land.

Fleeing Driver Rams Into Car; Army Man Dead

OLATHE, Kan. (AP)—An officer's 110-mile-an-hour chase of a speeding motorist Monday brought death to one man and critical injuries to two other persons.

Deputy Sheriff Don Reed was chasing William C. Evinger, 21, of Paola, Kan., when Evinger's car collided with one occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Maynard, both 19. Maynard, an Army private from Nokomis, Ill., was killed.

His wife and Evinger were injured critically. James A. Wheeler, assistant county attorney, said he will file a manslaughter charge against Evinger if he recovers.

Mass Exodus From Wrath Of Hurricane

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—To escape lethal winds and tides hurling tons of water into normally populated spots, refugees from hurricane Carla surged northward by the hundreds of thousands.

In road-clogging masses, they poured inland from the Texas and Louisiana coast in an exodus probably unparalleled in American history.

J.L. Lamanoco of Hitchcock, one of the communities near Galveston cleared before the arrival of mountainous waves, appeared to sum up a widespread sentiment.

"I stayed out the 1915 storm when I was a teen-ager," Lamanoco said at an evacuee shelter in Austin, miles from the coast. "I know what a hurricane is. When they said 'get out,' I got out."

The migrants fled in cars laden with pets and other possessions in addition to necessary clothing and food.

"The girl just wouldn't let me leave the bird," said Mrs. Lester Shemah of LaPorte. She carried a four-foot high bird cage containing a blue parakeet.

After an hours-longer than normal drive from Texas City, Mrs. Hector Morenos related:

"The traffic was so terrible that several times we wished we had stayed home. People aren't good drivers when they're scared."

Some moved as few miles as possible into the comparative safety of cities only a few miles from their imperiled homes. Others jammed public buildings, armories, hotels, motels and private homes as far north as Dallas, 300 miles from the Gulf of Mexico.

Red Cross spokesmen estimated a quarter million people were displaced. In most cases the migration was voluntary. At a few points the evacuations were by mandatory official order.

YOUR EYES AND VISUAL FUNCTIONS

What should a well fitted pair of glasses cost? Ten dollars? One hundred dollars?

The Missouri Optometric Association offers this information to persons wearing glasses or to anyone who may be considering having a pair fitted.

The complete cost of your glasses will depend upon five basic factors. The first is the training, knowledge and skill of the man who examines your eyes and vision. In Missouri this can be and is a factor with wide variations due to lack of uniform requirements for those engaged in ophthalmic practice.

The second is the amount of time the examiner takes to make the examination to determine the condition of eyes and vision and to determine how the glasses will be made. This time can and does vary from a few minutes to an hour or more for the individual patient and indicates how thoroughly the examination has been made.

The third factor which determines the cost of a pair of glasses is the training, knowledge and skill of the person who helps select the frame and does the actual fitting and adjusting of the glasses. This can vary from a lay person with little or no training to one who meets the highest requirements of training and skill for this very important part of ophthalmic service.

The fourth factor which enters into the cost of your glasses is the kind and quality of frames, lenses and materials used. The public has little knowledge or concept of how much this can vary. Some glasses are mere junk—others are the best the supplier can offer. Unfortunately, they can and do sometimes look very much alike.

The fifth factor is in the service given after the glasses are delivered, and here again there are wide variations.

In terms of sight and vision your professional optometrist who is a member of the Missouri Optometric Association has much to offer above and beyond the reasonable charges he makes for his service.

Avert Global Disaster

Pope Appeals to Leaders For a Negotiated Peace

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope John XXIII, in a dramatic appeal recalling papal messages on the eves of two world wars, urged the world's rulers to negotiate to avert a third global disaster.

In one of his most stirring messages since he became Pope almost three years ago, the pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church Sunday night asked "the rulers of nations to face squarely the tremendous responsibilities they bear."

He declared they must not "fall victims to false and deceiving provocations."

"It is truly upon wise men that the issue depends: that force shall not prevail, but right, through free and sincere negotiations; that truth and justice shall be vindicated by safeguarding the essential liberties and the insuppressible values of every nation and of every human person," the Pope said.

The Pope mentioned no world leader by name. But his words were bound to figure in growing pressure, especially by nonaligned nations, to bring about a face-to-face meeting between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev.

With the background of the Berlin crisis and renewed testing of nuclear weapons, Pope John made his appeal after celebrating a special Mass for world peace at his summer residence in this tiny hill resort, 15 miles south of Rome. Radio and television carried his 2,000-word address around the world.

The 79-year-old pontiff, who was an Italian army chaplain in World War I, spoke feelingly of "the bloodstained half century between 1914 and the present." He spoke of man's search for peace.

"The world," he said, "has no need of victorious wars and defeated peoples, but of the renewed strength of salvation and of the fruitfulness and calm of peace."

He spoke of "new weapons of destruction and ruin which human ingenuity continues to multiply to everyone's loss."

Of the choice between war and peace, the Pope said: "Everything is lost, and lost to everyone, through war. Nothing will be lost through peace."

Those words, Pope John said, recalled exhortations by Pope Pius X, later St. Pius, in 1914, and by Pope Pius XII on Aug. 24, 1939, a week before World War II started.

Pope John's recollection of the two previous papal pleas, both of which failed to avert war, lent intensity and drama to his message.

Paar Labels Reports As 'Distorted'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Television's Jack Paar has offered to discuss with Senate critics his recent filming of a TV show on the East Berlin border.

Many senators said they were shocked when they heard extra troops were on hand at the Communist border crossing point when Paar took films for his TV show.

Paar, in a cablegram Monday to Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said, "I will be available at your convenience to discuss with you and your colleagues anything you wish, if you feel it necessary after seeing the program."

Paar said reports of his activities in Berlin were "inaccurate and based on the distortions of one anonymous American reporter."

There was no immediate comment from Javits.

The Army made a prompt investigation late last week, then removed one officer from his job and admonished another for their part in the affair.

No senatorial critics raised the question of whether the program was an accurate report of happenings in Berlin. Critics objected mainly on the grounds that use of armed troops for such a show might have led to shooting in the touchy border area and the display of unusual armed might at the border would be grist for the Communist propaganda mills.

Communists Playing Up TV Incident

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communist regime warned the U.S. Army today not to "play war games" for television cameras on the border in Berlin.

The Communist party newspaper Neues Deutschland rejoiced that "ears had been boxed" because a Jack Paar TV show had been filmed on the border at Friedrichstrasse last Thursday. The Berlin command's information officer was removed and an infantry colonel admonished for showing up with 13 enlisted men to participate in the filming.

"What does an American television director do when he wants to film war scenes and there is no war taking place?" asked an editorial in the Communist paper. "He stages war games. So that the set-owners in the U.S.A. can see genuine 'extras' Mr. Jack Paar rented a 50-man unit of the American occupants of West Berlin and stationed them right on the national border of the GDR (East Germany) in Friedrichstrasse, to be filmed in warlike equipment."

"What would have happened if in the heat of the war games one of them accidentally pulled the trigger? Have we not emphatically declared that it is not advisable to carry out war games and provocations on our border?"

Presidential News Conference Sept. 20

Brookshire Wins Round; Is Warned

W. A. Brookshire, Columbia lawyer and Boone County farmer and stockman, obtained a continuance until Oct. 16 on his motion to argue for a new trial, in Booneville Monday.

He was found guilty of second degree murder in court in Booneville June 28 on a charge of venue from Boone County in connection with the fatal shooting of Roderick J. Neiss, 44, of Lawrence, Kan., at the Brookshire farm home in Boone County where Neiss was employed.

Judge Frank Hayes of Sedalia granted the continuance over objections of Larry Wood and James Conway, Boone and Cooper County prosecuting attorneys.

Brookshire said today that there are assertions in his motion for a new trial requiring proof, and to show that the jury was prejudiced and that he had an unfair trial. He said he wanted to add allegations and subpoena witnesses to prove his points.

Judge Hayes ruled that one may not add to or detract from a motion, once it is filed, that such matter should have been included in the motion originally, or cases could drag on indefinitely. He pointed out that the "motion is silent on those claims." He told Brookshire that the motion must be argued Oct. 16 or await automatic dismissal Nov. 5, at the end of a 90-day default period.

Judge Hayes added that he will not consider additional material to the original motion, will "not try the case over with the hearing of witnesses," will not take the case under advisement, and will rule on the merits of the motion immediately after the arguments.

Addressing Brookshire, he said, "If I rule against you, you had better have your bondsman in court or you will go to jail."

Ransom Demand May Come From Painting Thief

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — A ransom demand may come, police say, from the thief who locked a maid in a closet and stole four paintings insured for $670,000 from a Bel-Air mansion.

The FBI joined the investigation Monday on the theory that paintings so costly would be transported across state lines. One is a Picasso listed at $400,000.

The thief, posing as a florist and concealing a revolver in a bouquet, took the paintings Sunday from the $2-million collection at the home of industrialist David E. Bright.

The possibility of a ransom demand was seen in a mysterious call to Bright's telephone answering service, placed before the theft was made public.

"Don't contact the police or insurance company and you'll get your paintings back," a man's voice said.

Stolen were Pablo Picasso's "Sabastian," insured for $400,000; Picasso's "Looking Through a Window," $100,000; Amadeo Modigliani's "Portrait of a Woman," $150,000, and an untitled abstract by Afro Basaldella valued at $20,000.

and Abe Rosen are the same person.

In the hearing Tuesday both the defense and Prosecuting Attorney agreed on several counties for the trial, and Judge Hayes ordered the case be transferred to Saline county.

Messina is to appear before Judge Phil Cook in Marshall on Sept. 18, on the opening day of the September term of the Circuit Court in that county. It is expected a trial date will be set at that time.

Judge Hayes stated that the $25,000 bond on which Messina is free will apply to Saline county.

I Was Misunderstood?

Jackson Denies Accusing King of Conceiving Plot

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. J. H. Jackson denied Monday night that he accused Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Atlanta integration leader, of masterminding the invasion of a Baptist church convention in Kansas City last week.

Dr. Jackson, president of the National Baptist Convention USA, said his remarks were taken out of context by newsmen at Kansas City and misunderstood.

The Rev. A. G. Wright of Detroit, a delegate to the Negro church convention, was fatally injured in the scuffling incident.

Followers of Jackson's presidential opponent, Dr. Gardner Taylor of Brooklyn, invaded the speaker's platform.

In a news conference Saturday, Jackson was quoted as accusing King of master-minding the convention incident.

King asked Jackson in a telegram the next day to retract the accusations.

Jackson, who said he plans to write King an explanatory letter, told a newsmen in Chicago he made no attempt to discredit King or to accuse him of being involved in the invasion.

Jackson said he told King in a telephone conversation Sunday that he had not made the statement.

Jackson said he was misunderstood at the news conference in Kansas City when he compared two philosophies of civil rights.

Jackson said newsmen asked him which theory Dr. King adhered to.

"King is identified with the group that has emphasized the technique of protest," Jackson said. "Then I was asked if Dr. King was the power behind the group which invaded the auditorium, and I told them he wasn't, but that he was the mastermind behind the protest technique."

"Apparently I was misunderstood."

Jackson said he was misunderstood at the news conference in Kansas City when he compared two philosophies of civil rights.

Jackson said newsmen asked him which theory Dr. King adhered to.

"King is identified with the group that has emphasized the technique of protest," Jackson said. "Then I was asked if Dr. King was the power behind the group which invaded the auditorium, and I told them he wasn't, but that he was the mastermind behind the protest technique."

"Apparently I was misunderstood."

Boy Suffers Broken Right Leg in Mishap

A 14-year-old Sedalia boy suffered a broken right leg in a car-bicycle accident at 3:52 p.m. Monday at Seventh and Limit.

Stephen Proctor, son of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Proctor, 908 West Broadway, was rushed to the Bothwell Hospital and received treatment from Drs. Donald Proctor and Thomas J. Hopkins.

Young Proctor was riding a bicycle west on Seventh when the accident occurred. Also involved was a 1959 Chevrolet driven south on Limit by Charles Pfeiffer, 52, 1806 South Grand.

The hood of the Chevrolet and the front wheel and fork of the bicycle were damaged.

Pfeiffer was issued a police summons charging him with careless and reckless driving in connection with the accident. He is scheduled to appear in police court at 8:30 a.m. today.

Man Who Fought Society Becomes Policeman In KC

By WILLIAM H. McWHIRTER
The Kansas City Star

Written for The Associated Press
KANSAS CITY (AP) — By the time he was 12 years old, Valentin Schultz had already become a skilled liar, petty thief, disciplinary problem and a convincing hypocrite.

It was no coincidence that he also was a prisoner in a German concentration camp.

Schultz, whose family had fled from its small sheep farm in the Ukraine rather than face the invading Russian army, remembers that "there was a double thickness of barbed wire, 12 feet high, stretched between four guard towers at the camp. You minded no one unless he wore a uniform and carried a gun. This came to mean society for me."

Now 15 years later, Schultz today wears a badge, holster and uniform. As a member of the Kansas City Police Department he finds himself the representative of authority rather than its enemy.

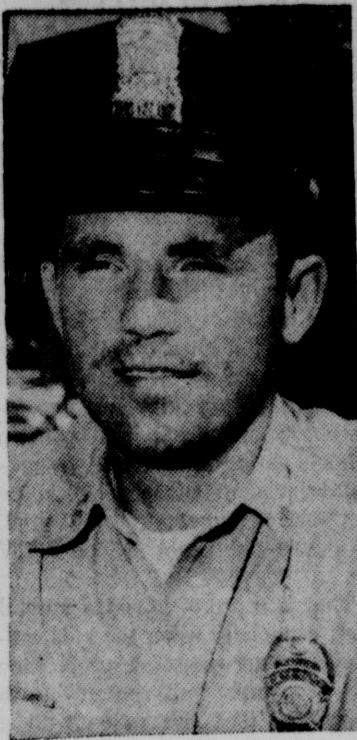

"Even as a small child, many of us felt that we had been placed in a position where we could only fight, cheat or outwit society," Schultz says. "Some of our people are today so bitter that this is the way they still think."

"Although our family has never been under the control of the Communists, there is little difference between their rule and life in that concentration camp. This is why we have never returned to the Ukraine."

During his time in a concentration camp, Schultz began to go out at night with children his own age searching for food. It was against the stern command of his father, Aderj Aculshi, a Baptist minister, who had decided that the family would remain honest despite any hardships.

"It is funny what war can do," Schultz says. "We only thought of food and where we could get it. You know where you eat and so you begin to steal from the mess hall. You think where food comes from and so you take stocks from the supply post or the back of any army truck. We tried to imagine where a farmer might hide his crop and, coming from a farm family, I usually guessed right."

"We never took more food than necessary, however, he added,

HIS WORLD CHANGED

Valentin Schultz now finds himself representing authority as a member of the Kansas City police department rather than being an enemy of it as he was while a prisoner in a German concentration camp.

"I guess you would call that ethics."

Once to escape being returned to the Ukraine, Schultz and a broker took refuge in a Polish refugee camp, spoke only Polish and—temporarily—Converted to Catholicism.

Schultz, who still grins mischievously when he describes their interrogation by the Russian officers, says "the Poles knew, of course, but they stuck by our story. We had to be quick and so we talked on and on about the church and our home in Poland. There was no doubt about it—we were Poles, blood and bones."

However, even after the war, Schultz remained rebellious against everything — his family, his teachers and his father.

"I was always the top student in the class," he says, "and the top problem. I had a sixth sense against society. I was always looking for someone to hit or something to swipe."

His father, however, remained patient, even after the family had come to the United States through the Church World Service program.

One day, however, before he left for the Army, Schultz remembers him shaking his head and saying, for the first time, "Valentin, I think you may end up on the wrong side of the tracks."

"This time, I rebelled again. I swore to him that he was going to be wrong. I never worked harder, and after three years, I returned home and bragged to him that I was a sergeant."

"Two months later, I was reduced to a corporal for misconduct."

It took two more years to regain his rank and, after leaving the service as a staff sergeant, Schultz thought it was "no time to stop being a good man."

He joined the police department last year and was one of the few patrolmen to be assigned to a district shortly after graduation from the police academy.

"I realized that, after all, this is what liberty really meant—not to destroy society, but to uphold it without being forced or indoctrinated. I wanted to do it of my own free will."

"I hate to see any kid break the law here. There was a reason in concentration camp, but in the United States it is a crime which cannot be justified. There is plenty of everything."

"When I arrest someone now, I don't bore them with my own life, but I try to make them see what they can be to society. I tell them they can be teachers and lawyers and, once in a while, if a kid looks promising, I tell him he can be president."

"There are times now when I just get out of my police car and smile at the world."

Reporters Blamed For Paar Furor

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Paar says he received no undue cooperation from U.S. Army personnel in his recent filming of a TV show on Berlin's tense East-West border.

Reporters were to blame for the furor stirred up over the incident, he says.

And as for Congress: "It 'could better spend its time on some of its unfinished business with James Hoffa' than worrying about TV shows. Hoffa is president of the Teamsters Union and has been questioned by senators."

Paar wouldn't talk with newspapermen about the incident, but he discussed it in Berlin with Eleanor Harris, who is traveling with him for Look Magazine. The interview was published by the New York Herald Tribune.

He told the writer that he wasn't surprised that reporters "make up news, but I am surprised to hear that senators spent 30 minutes discussing this matter."

The Army removed one officer—Lt. Col. Dallas Hoadley, Baltimore—from his post for "improper performance of duty." It admonished a second—Col. J. R. Deane Jr. of San Francisco—for "exercising poor judgment" in providing troops filmed by Paar.

The National Broadcasting Co. said the controversial Berlin sequence would be shown on the Paar program Tuesday night.

Installs Officers

The Stokely Extension Club met Tuesday with Mrs. Nona Hoke as hostess for its regular monthly meeting with ten members and four children present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Dannie Wulff with the devotional given by Mrs. M. E. Foree. The newsletter was read by the president.

It was voted to buy 15 new song books for the R-1 Hustlers 4-H Club.

The following officers were installed for the coming year: Mrs. Robert Roost, president; vice president, Mrs. Roy McCorkle; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. M. E. Foree; parliamentarian, Mrs. W. T. Summerskill; reporter, Mrs. L. E. Woiden; song leader, Mrs. Guy Ballew; game leader, Mrs. Clay Curtis.

The meeting was closed with a poem read by the president. The Oct. 3 meeting will be with Mrs. Roy McCorkle as hostess for a half day meeting. United Nations will be the subject.

Moves to Ft. Worth

James W. Atkinson, Jr., formerly of Sedalia, has recently moved with his family to Fort Worth, Texas, where he will take up new duties with the Retail Credit Company sales manager for its Central Texas District.

For several years Mr. Atkinson has been a special representative for the company in Kansas City.

During the summer months their children, Lynn, Richard and Jamie, spent several weeks in Sedalia visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Atkinson, 2101 East 16th.

View From a Spaceship

People — many people — ask: Why go into space? Why spend billions in a prestige race with Russia when there are so many pressing problems to be solved right on earth?

The realist might say: Because space is merely an extension of the ideological-economic-scientific contest between us and communism. And it is also a new military arena which we cannot afford to allow the Russians to appropriate.

Undoubtedly, all this is true concerning the potentialities of Soviet space know-how, and our development of space weapons and other vehicles is a necessity.

But we may miss the essential point if we subordinate space exploration to space militarism. To be sure, we have offered to share, and are sharing, with the whole world the scientific knowledge we have gained from our scores of peaceful satellites of all kinds. We have been the pioneers in weather and communications and navigation satellites.

Yet when it comes to manned space flight, we are in danger of distorting the true significance of space to mankind. We justify it in political and military terms, when it needs no justification at all. It remains for a Russian, Yuri Gagarin, to envision a Russo-American moon expedition. It is Gherman Titov, brand-new member of the Communist party, who rhapsodizes about the cosmos awaiting its own poets and painters.

Dismiss this as propaganda, if you will, designed to soften our "firmness" and seduce the neutral nations, and a poor substitute for butter for the Russian people. But there is a truth in it that springs not from any ideology but from something elementally human.

An astronaut orbiting the earth sees no black boundary lines between countries. The Russian empire is not printed in red, nor are East and West Germany visible in two different colors. It is difficult to believe that men, when the day comes that they actually set up camp on an alien planet, will carry their petty divisions with them.

They will try, of course, but they will succeed only if they travel in space ships without windows. Else, the universe will overwhelm them and transfigure them.

On the matter of other problems to be solved, certainly more money should be spent for research on diseases, or any one of a hundred physical and social ills that plague our lives. The conquest of cancer, for example, will be a supreme achievement of the human intellect.

But to make this, or the complete mastery of our earthly environment, a precondition for any sort of cosmic adventure is to guarantee that this mastery will never be attained. For it is human curiosity and daring in the face of the unknown that has made progress possible.

To deny the challenge of space is to deny that which marks us off from contented animals. It is to maintain that the earth is flat, that there is no New World beyond the horizon.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Khrushchev Does a Little Interviewing

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — I have already reported rather fully on what Premier Khrushchev told me while at his Black Sea vacation spot. But I have not reported what I told him. What a newspaperman tells the top leader of the Communist world is not particularly important, but in this case it may throw some light on Soviet-American relations.

Khrushchev, during a running cross-fire of conversation, at times interviewed me. He was asking me about all sorts of American leaders.

"Does Averell Harriman still control the Union Pacific railroad?" was one question. "He and his family are the biggest stockholders, but he isn't active in the railroad any more," I replied.

"What's become of Henry Wallace?" he asked.

"He's up in New York state trying to grow a strawberry that will be as sweet as the French strawberry and as big as the American," I replied.

"Interesting," observed Khrushchev. "He's also trying to breed a chicken which will be a heavy layer yet will not be subject to the diseases which heavy-laying hens contract," I added.

"Our Communist chickens have that problem too," said Mr. K. "Mr. Wallace was a good man."

"Did you ever know of his position on the atom bomb?" I asked. "At the last meeting of the Truman cabinet attended by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson in October 1945, Stimson proposed that the secret of the atom bomb be given to Russia."

"This was about six weeks after the atom bomb was first exploded over Hiroshima," I recalled. "Stimson was a Republican who had served as Secretary of War under Taft, Secretary of State under Hoover, and Secretary of War a second time under Roosevelt."

"He argued before the Truman cabinet that Russia would get the atom bomb anyway, and we might as well win Soviet good will by offering them the secret then. It was the way to build permanent peace."

"He was right," observed Khrushchev. "There were three votes in the cabinet for giving Russia the secret of the A-bomb," I continued. "Stimson's, Henry Wallace's, and Dean Acheson's. Acheson was then Acting Secretary of State."

Influence of McCarthy

This interested Khrushchev. Earlier he had told me President Kennedy was taking advice from Acheson on Berlin and that Acheson was a diehard Soviet-hater.

I explained that Acheson had started out his career in the State Department anxious for cooperating with the Soviets but had shifted partly because of Stalin's tough tactics, partly because of Senator McCarthy's attacks.

"McCarthy charged that there were 205 card-carrying Communists in the State Department known to Acheson," I recalled. Khrushchev thought this was rather humorous.

"Actually, subsequent investigation showed there weren't any," I said. "But the more McCarthy accused Acheson of being soft on Communism, the more Acheson hardened in his relations with the Soviet. And this may be the big mistake you are making with Kennedy today."

I then recalled how Kennedy, in the early stage of his campaign for President, had said

INDIANAPOLIS NEWS: Words to Remember.—In these days when "world opinion" is invoked as a reason for weakness and indecision in American policy, the nation would do well to recall the wise words of its first President George Washington. In 1793, Washington told Congress:

"There is a rank due to the United States among nations, which will be withheld, if not absolutely lost, by the reputation of weakness. If we desire to avoid insult, we must be able to repel it. If we desire to secure peace, one of the most powerful instruments of our rising prosperity, it must be known that we are at all times ready for war."

These sentiments have been true for all nations, from the beginning of civilized life. They were true for the United States in its infancy, and they are equally true now.

The World Today

Nikita's Most Calculated Strategy

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's an inexpensive, but not brainy, comfort to think that the pudgy man who talks peaceful coexistence is really a good guy being pushed by Kremlin tough guys into talking war and superbombs.

Nothing in the record bears out that notion which, from time to time, is floated like a dreamy balloon to explain the sudden and savage switches which occur in Premier Khrushchev.

He didn't become leader of the Communist pack by being a soft-touch anytime for anybody. He had to claw his way to the top in a league whose philosophy is based on power and not on persuasion.

The world was shocked when Khrushchev suddenly ended the East-West agreement to forego nuclear tests. It didn't need to be. Khrushchev had carefully laid the groundwork for just such a switch.

The only missing element in his decision was why he did it when he did.

Nor should his toughness on Berlin now be a surprise. He said three years ago he wanted the Allies out of Berlin and it had to be done. He said there would have to be a showdown this year and he's trying to make good on his threat.

Stalin looked tougher than Khrushchev. He was behind the Berlin blockade of 1948, the Communist guerrilla warfare in Greece, the pressure on Turkey, the seizure of Czechoslovakia, and, no doubt, the Korean War.

Stalin wasn't tougher, just more reckless. By the time Khrushchev took over, the United States and Russia both had the hydrogen bomb. So he had to be more careful.

But the two men's goals were the same—world domination. The only difference is tactics. A good example of why Khrushchev isn't being pressured by Kremlinites more belligerent than himself is in the nuclear test suspensions.

When President Eisenhower in 1958 suspended American nuclear testing, there were some who thought the United States should not stop. You can be sure there was a difference of opinion in Russia when Khrushchev said he was suspending his tests the same year, too.

In January 1960, Khrushchev said Russia would not resume the tests unless the "Western powers resume them." In Khrushchev's mind the Western powers, as it turned out, included France which was then preparing to test.

A little more than a month later—on Feb. 13, 1960—France had its first atomic test in the Sahara. Immediately the Russian news agency, Tass, laid down what was to become the Soviet excuse for resuming its own tests.

"If nuclear explosions should continue, the Soviet government will, naturally, not be able to overlook it and fail to draw the proper conclusions for its own security," Tass said.

The Associated Press reported last May 15 that the American and British representatives, then negotiating with the Russians in Geneva on a permanent test ban, "were not greatly impressed by the threat of resumed Soviet testing."

But Khrushchev meant business, as he proved. Just as some of President Kennedy's advisers thought the United States should resume testing in the atmosphere, it can be taken for granted some of Khrushchev's advisers thought Russia should.

This record doesn't indicate that Kremlinites ganged up on Khrushchev to make him change his mind about suspending atmospheric tests. The only question is why did he do it when he did, during the Berlin crisis.

A good guess is that he decided it was good strategy to show the West he meant business on Berlin and, if possible, terrorize the Allies into yielding to him.

TIME OF YOUR LIFE

BY ARTHUR LORD

for practical advice on the problems of growing older.

THE OLD MAN

WON'T RETIRE

DEAR ARTHUR: My husband should have retired seven years ago. He's 72. He works all day long. He invents things to do. His paint factory can run itself and has for the past 20 years. The office force tolerates "the old man" because he is still boss. Why can't Hugo come home and spend some time with me? Neither he nor I are going to be here forever you know.

SUSAN

DEAR SUSAN: I would have thought that by now you would have gotten to know your husband, Susan. Some men feel a compulsion to work. Working for them is like child-bearing for many women. It is something they do naturally and with pleasure. It is part of them and, without it, they cannot be happy. Don't interfere with Hugo. He would not really be himself if he wasn't doing exactly what he's doing. Try and understand him.

DEAR ARTHUR: Mom has lived with us for years. She's a regular member of the family. And I'm happy to say that we all enjoy having her live with us. A few days ago she started to eat much less than normal. Does this happen to all older people?

Mom's 66. CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: It's true that many older folks cut down on the amount they eat. However, the amount they eat is relatively unimportant. You should pay attention to what kinds of foods Mom eats. Her diet must be well balanced. See if mom has cut down on her physical activity or is bothered by an emotional problem. Either situation would tend to cause a loss of appetite.

DEAR ARTHUR: I hear so much about how it costs to live after retirement. Samuel and I are an average couple, I suppose. He is 67 and I am 65. He will retire in two months and I'd like to know how little we can get by.

REBECCA

DEAR REBECCA: Assuming that you are as average as you suppose, Rebecca, you should budget somewhere between $2,600 and $3,400. This includes food, drink, rent, utilities, and other goods and services. To give you an idea of costs around the country, the Department of Labor gave me some average annual expenses for various cities:

Budget $3,044 for New York, $2,720 for Atlanta, $2,641 for Houston, $3,111 for Los Angeles, $3,252 for Seattle, $3,366 for Chicago and $3,034 for Kansas City.

We, the Women

Free Time of Youngsters Consumed by Television

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Any halfway intelligent mother would be shocked to learn that her young son was stuffing himself with candy to the extent that candy accounted for more than half the food he was consuming every day.

Yet, a recent study made of pupils in the fifth, seventh, ninth, and eleventh grades in a mid-western city shows that on the average these students spend more than half of their uncommitted time — time not spent in school, eating or sleeping—watching television. Of their 67 hours a week of "uncommitted" time, 36 hours are spent before a TV set.

That is a pretty lopsided mental diet, especially when the kids confess an overwhelming preference for programs that entertain to programs that inform — with a strong preference for shows containing action and violence.

I would almost seem to indicate that today's parents aren't nearly as concerned with what goes into their children's minds as what goes into their stomachs.

Actually, most mothers have no idea of how many hours a week their kids sit staring at a TV set. Many of them have never thought to keep score for a month or so to find out.

Some probably don't care. So long as sis and junior are watching TV, they are no trouble. Nobody has to answer their questions, referee their quarrels or help them find the necessary equipment for some "childish" project. Nobody has to worry about where they are and what they're doing or take time out to teach them how to do something.

So, with some mothers not knowing and some not caring how much time their children spend being entertained by TV, it really isn't any wonder that children are squandering more than half their spare time sitting with the one-eyed monster — more time, actually, than they spend in school.

The Mature Parent

Let Children Know What Is To Be Expected of Them

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

Throughout grade and high school Julia's older sister, Anne, a conscientious student, got excellent marks. Gratiified by her successes, her parents praised her, had her promotion certificates and diplomas framed and revealed in the compliments of friends and relatives. At college this year Anne has maintained her fine grades—and with them her parents' pride.

But Julia missed her final high school history exam because of a severe digestive upset. As she signed her name at the top of her math test paper, her hands were cold and wet with the sweat of fear that she wouldn't be able to duplicate Anne's graduation summa cum laude.

In this space I have often defined praise of a child's successes — academic, athletic, social—as an indirect demand for more successes.

Now I define praise of one child's successes as an indirect demand for similar successes from his brothers and sisters.

It is the indirectness of this demand that I find cruel and cowardly.

Were Julia's parents to say to her, "We want you to graduate from high school as gloriously as Anne did because we want you to reflect the same kind of credit on us as she does," I would have no objection at all. Such an open statement would give Julia a chance to judge the justice of the demand. She could say, "O.K. I'll do my best," or "But I'm not my sister," or "Why do you depend on me to make you feel important?"

But as the demand is never expressed in words, Julia's reply has to be made indirectly too. She has to use her resentful stomach and sweating hands to protest her anger at her parents' unspoken requirement that she duplicate her sister's creditable successes.

To praise a child is to announce our standards of performance to him. The more extravagantly and persistently we praise him, the more insistent is our suggestion that he meet these standards.

That's fine with me—so long as he knows what we're up to.

Usually he doesn't. Usually he believes himself to be gratified by our praise. Usually it takes him a long time to realize that the gratifying praise we have given him has contained no respect at all but adds up to the dreadful statement:

"I like you when you do well. But if you fail, you'll have to look elsewhere for someone to like you."

1 of 7 Gets Defense Act Aid At CMS

One out of seven students enrolled at Central Missouri State this fall is benefiting from the National Defense Student Loan fund, Dr. Warren C. Lovinger, president, announced this week.

More than 1,200 loans have been made to CMS students since these special federal funds were released to the college after enactment of the 1958 National Defense Education Act. Since 1959, the college has been granted $641,184 for student loans.

Approval has been given for 600 loans totaling more than $260,000 for the current academic year. Two-thirds of these loans are for the CMS maximum of $650 per year.

"The National Defense Student Loan fund is certainly timely," said Dr. Lovinger. "as there now seems to be a greater need for financial help than last year. About 8 1/2 per cent of our students received financial help last year but approximately 14 per cent of the students now enrolled have asked for assistance."

The government loan plan has been in operation on the Central Missouri State campus since 1959. Many students who obtained loans in order to finish college are now repaying what they had borrowed.

"Graduates are doing a good job of repaying the loans," said Dr. Lovinger. "This not only justifies our faith in them as individuals but also makes more funds available for others."

A National Defense Education Act loan is not due until two years after the borrower graduates. A graduate who teaches for five years is forgiven one-half the amount of the loan.

Student loans on the CMS campus are handled through the placement office.

TV Beauty Contest Is A Favorite

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

It's a wonder some smart TV packager doesn't come up with the idea of a weekly—instead of a yearly—"Miss America" or "Miss Universe" contest. Each time one turns up on the nation's TV screen, it runs away with audience ratings. After all, that's the real test in TV.

A beauty contest really has everything, and those requirements of talent and poise are just incidental to the swimsuit parade. First, of course, there are pretty girls and if there's anything guaranteed to woo the male from westerns and baseball games it is his red-blooded responsibility as a dedicated girl-watcher.

There's also the audience identification with the judges. Every member of that vast TV audience watching the selection of North Carolina's Maria Fletcher as "Miss America" on Saturday night had his (or her) favorite. Mine was Miss Utah.

Unfortunately, "The Miss America Pageant" left a lot to be desired in terms of entertainment and — particularly — sparkling dialogue. It stumbled along for darned near three hours, most of the time at an embarrassingly amateurish pace. But that didn't really matter. The show was pretty young girls.

After all, the beauty contest is a great American institution along with hot dogs and central heating. It comes at a very dull period of the TV year. So let's just be grateful.

The really big TV event of the weekend was the Jack Paar border incident. If Jack can cause such a ruckus just by approaching the Iron Curtain, what will he think up when he reaches Moscow I hope he just keeps fighting the American press corps and doesn't decide to take on the Kremlin. Yanqui come home!

Coats and Ties May Come Off At High School

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — School authorities — with a probable assist from the thermometer — will decide whether the boys at Hillhouse High will have to continue wearing coats and ties.

"Phew!" the New Haven School Board said Monday night after hearing that Principal Robert T. LeVine had sent several boys home for not following his sartorial directive.

The order is "unreasonable" in such hot weather, one member complained as the board asked an assistant superintendent to discuss the issue with LeVine.

A decision is expected today. LeVine, whose school was one of the first in the country to ban bluejeans and ducktail haircuts, said he hoped he could keep his policy — with allowance for "oppressive" weather conditions.

PISA, Italy (AP)—Reports circulated in this central Italian city today that saboteurs might try to blow up the famed leaning tower of Pisa.

The rumors spread after a weekend of terrorist bombings in Rome and half a dozen other cities. Government officials blamed the bombings on German-speaking extremists seeking greater autonomy in South Tyrol.

City authorities in Pisa said they felt normal security measures around the leaning tower are adequate. The monument, a 14th century bell tower standing next to the Cathedral of Pisa, is constantly guarded by at least two policemen.

Mark Deadline For Brookshire To Argue Case

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP)—W. A. Brookshire, Boone County lawyer and farmer, has been given a continuance until Oct. 16 to argue his motion for a new trial.

He was convicted June 28 of second degree murder in the shooting of his farmhand, Roderick J. Neiss, 44, of Lawrence, Kan.

Circuit Judge Frank Hayes, granting the continuance Monday, told Brookshire he would rule on the motion as soon as arguments are completed.

"If I rule against you," the judge said, "you had better have your bondsman in court or you will go to jail."

Down By a Million

DETROIT (AP) — Auto production this year apparently will fall more than one million units below the 1960 total of 6.7 million.

So far 3.4 million cars have been built, or less than were built in the first six months last year. The total is expected to rise to about 3.8 million by the end of the month.

Present production projections for the October-December quarter call for between 1.6 and 1.8 million for the year.

Fourth quarter production still is highly speculative since the manufacturers won't get the public reaction to 1962 models for several more weeks.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT NEWSPAPERBOY HONOR ROLL FOR AUGUST, 1961

RONNIE WILLIAMS

Newspaperboy of the Month

Ronnie Williams, 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williams, 2020 E. 6th, tops all Sedalia newspaperboys for the month of August. Ronnie, who has been managing the same Sedalia Democrat route for the past four years, has turned in a consistently outstanding performance. In 1958 he placed in the Top Ten Newspaperboys of the year and for the past two years he has just barely missed that group. He has qualified for the Honor Roll for 47 straight months, which may be a record. He attends the Broadway Baptist Mission and is a sophomore at Smith-Cotton High School. This past summer he played for the Breakfast Optimist Club in the Babe Ruth League. His hobby is building model cars.

AREA NEWSPAPERBOYS

LARRY KREISEL Windsor

Newspaperboy of the Month

For the second time this year Larry Kreisel, Windsor, takes first place honors in the area Newspaperboy Honor Roll. Larry is 16 years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Kreisel, 624 E. Florence, Windsor. He has been managing a Democrat route in Windsor since February first and has already established a good reputation for dependability and service. Several customers have contacted the office to commend Larry's service. His salesmanship ability has been evident also as his route is at an all time high. A junior at Windsor High School, Larry lists his hobbies as coin collecting and building model cars.

Commission Issues Report

Reports of Rabies Worry Some Hunters in Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY (Special)—Rabies, described as "a fatal disease" in man and other animals and one from which "they always die," causes periodic concern among wildlife sportsmen as well as pet owners and keepers of other domestic animals.

Since the disease has been found in some species of wild animals, some hunters have worried lest they contract the virus from their quarry, either by direct attack of a rabid game animal or by eating the flesh of a diseased animal.

The Conservation Commission has issued figures on rabies diagnoses which show that from 1956 through 1960 only 14 of the 260 wildlife rabies cases diagnosed have been in game animals commonly or occasionally killed for food purposes. These included five squirrels, six raccoons and three opossums.

The bulk of the reported cases were in foxes, with 127 reported, and skunks, with 108 cases. In addition, one bobcat, a muskrat, five coyotes, a rat and three bats were diagnosed as rabid within the five-year period. The bats, all three reported in 1960, were the first cases of bat rabies reported in Missouri. So far in 1961, four bat rabies cases have been reported, all in the central Missouri area.

Although the possibility of contracting rabies from meat-type game is minimal, outdoorsmen should familiarize themselves with the symptoms of the disease so they may recognize rabies in other wildlife. A general rule is that any animal behaving abnormally should be suspect.

Abnormal actions would include such things as lack of fear of mankind in an animal that normally avoids human contact, and aggressiveness in normally timid animals. Although other diseases may also cause these symptoms, rabies should be suspected for safety's sake. An animal suspected of being rabid should not be shot in the head. If possible it should be confined until it dies.

Hillclimb Considered Successful

The Iron Horsemen Motorcycle Club of Sedalia held their second hillclimb of the season Sunday. The hillclimb was held on the Bohon farm five miles south of Sedalia on Route "C" and was attended by over 500 spectators.

There were 40 riders from all parts of Missouri and Kansas who put on a most exciting show of speed and skill at motorcycle hill climbing.

Local riders put out their best efforts which was climaxed by John Witte climbing the hill in a record 6.6 seconds. The fast time record was previously held by Dewey McCreary of Kansas City.

Another fine performance and the only other record broken was by Ricky Yeager, 12 year old member of the Iron Horsemen, who broke his record of 135 feet by climbing 140 feet on the 200 foot vertical hill of dirt and rock.

Other local riders who did an outstanding job of riding and won trophies for their efforts were: Ed Bahner, who was the only 250 cc rider that went over the top of the hill, and who also won the fast time of the day in the lightweight division; Don Carver, Don Baker, Ward Wollard and Vance Kuhns.

The trophy winners in the respective classes were: 175 cc Class: 1, Ricky Yeager of Sedalia; 2, Jack Walker; 3, Joseph Amaral.

200 cc Class: 1, Bill Bailes; 2, Bill Tate; 3, Bill Snyder.

250 cc Class: 1, Ed Bahner of Sedalia; 2, Wayne Arnold; 3, Don Carver of Sedalia; 4, Don Baker of Sedalia.

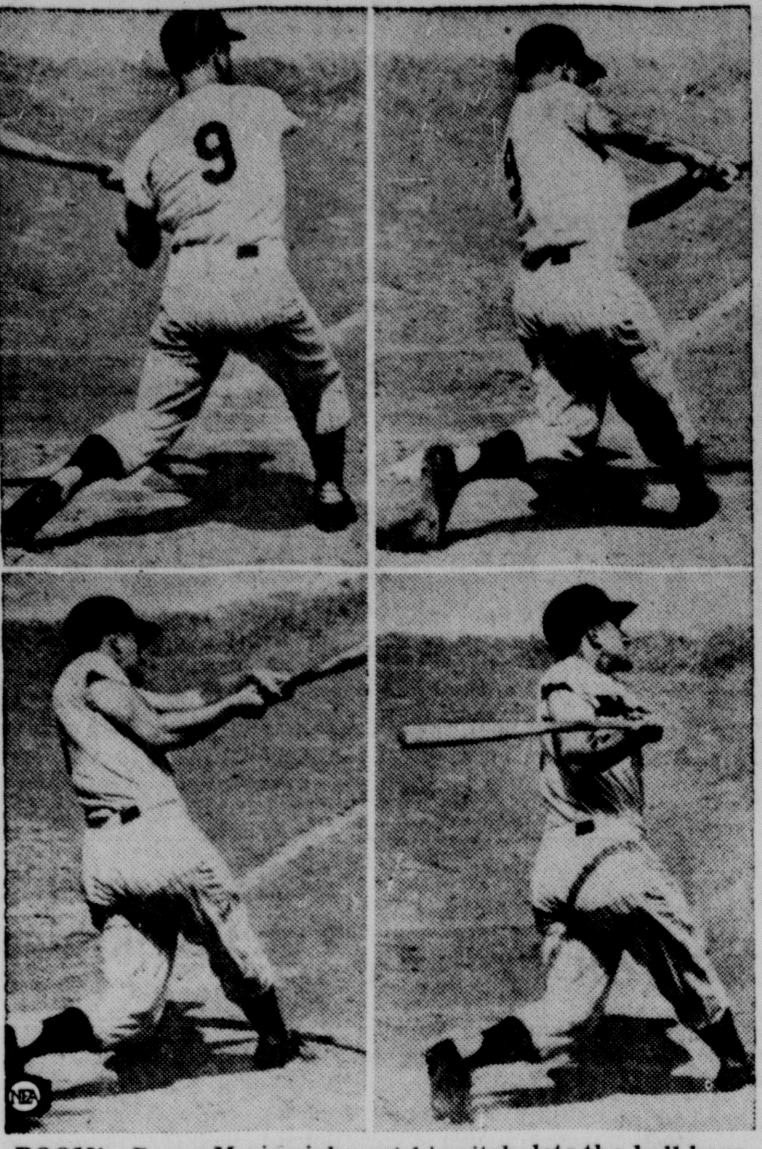

350 cc Class: 1, John Agee (only 2 riders in this class for 1 trophy).

30.50 Class: 1, D. I. Brown; 2, Dewey McCreary.

40" Class: 1, Robert Hirt; 2, Delbert Smith; 3, James Kobush.

55" Class: 1, John Witte of Sedalia; 2, Ward Wollard of Sedalia; 3, David McAfee; 4, Vance Kuhns of Sedalia.

The spectators seemed most appreciative of the fine show and the thrills furnished by the riders and showed their enthusiasm by their frequent applause.

On the Saturday before the hill climb there was a parade through downtown Sedalia by the Iron Horsemen Motorcycle Club and its guests. The Iron Horsemen have expressed publicly their appreciation of the attendance in the parade of Mayor pro-tem and Mrs. E. B. Smith, President of the Chamber of Commerce Sam Boyle and Mrs. Boyle, and Chief of Police and Mrs. Ralph Hamlin.

Also greatly appreciated was the cooperation of the police force in directing traffic at the intersections crossed by the parade and the use of automobiles furnished by W. A. Smith Motor Co., Pruitt Motors, and Cal Rodgers Pontiac Co.

The next motorcycle event to be held by the Iron Horsemen will be a Motorcycle Scrambles Race on Sept. 24, on the Henry Ash development, five miles south of Sedalia on Highway 65. A fine, afternoon entertainment is promised to all who attend.

Dump Marshall Owls 14-13

Tiger 'B' Squad Puts Down Last Minute Revolt to Win

By ALAN MILLER

The Smith-Cotton Tiger "B" team put down a last minute effort by Marshall to defeat the Owls 14-13 Monday night in a game played at Marshall.

In the closing minutes of the game the Owls, trailing by one point, desperately tried to get the ball downfield by taking to the air, but they were stopped by a fine Tiger rushing line.

In the first quarter the ball had been moved up and down the field with neither team posing a threat until Phil Mathews, Smith-Cotton sophomore, connected with Ronnie Miller in a touch-down pass which, to the dismay of the Tiger fans, was nullified by an offside against the Sedalians.

The second quarter saw the Owls fumbling the ball, which was recovered by Bill McFarland, setting the Tigers up for the first score of the game. Mathews connected with Larry McCown and Ronnie Miller in two pass plays for the touchdown. The extra point was taken on a pass to Lar-us Durnell, left halfback for the Tigers.

Neither team was able to move the ball until Sedalia broke loose and marched downfield for 80 yards in the second period, with Mathews connecting to Tom Gibbs on the seven yard line. He connected again to Bill McFarland in the endzone for the second TD. The quarterback sneak gave the Tigers the extra point.

At half-time, the Tigers paced the Owls 14-7.

The second half saw the Owls take to the air with a combination of passes to score their first touchdown in the third quarter. Marshall gained the extra point on the ground.

On the following kick-off, Sedalia fumbled with the Owls recovering on the Tiger 20-yard line. Seizing the opportunity, the Owls turned the fumble into an easy touchdown. A strong defense, led by Allen Trout, S-C tackle, prevented the try for the extra point. Sedalia . . . 0 14 0 0-14 Marshall . . . 0 0 7 6-13

Amateur Golf Tourney In Second Day

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —Defending champion Deane Beman skidded through his opening test only to run into tougher Bill Joe Patton today in the second round of the National Amateur Golf Tournament.

Beman, 23, insurance man from Arlington, Va., narrowly missed becoming No. 1 upset victim of this event before turning back Harry Allers, 21, of Lake Wales, Fla., 1-up on the tricky and treacherous Pebble Beach course. Happy-go-lucky Patton of Morganton, N.C., playing in his 11th U.S. Amateur, drew a bye and watched the first-round action over the par 36-72 course on the edge of the Pacific Ocean.

"I'm looking forward to meeting him," said Beman. "We've never met before in match play." The defending champion termed his opening effort from "good to awful" with his wife helpfully adding "sometimes awful awful."

Beman led 4-up at the end of nine holes but the lead was cut to one by the end of the 14th after he ran into troubles and began spraying tee shots. If Allers hadn't missed an 18-inch putt at the 11th, the match could have gone into extra holes.

Seventy-two first-round winners joined 56 who had byes to make up today's second round of 128.

Failing to reach it were John Farquhar of Amarillo, Tex., and Charles Lewis of Little Rock, Ark. both semifinalists last year; Bill Hyndman, the Walker Cup player from Philadelphia; and Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., three times a Walker Cup competitor.

Farquhar fell before Dick Lotz, 18, of San Lorenzo, Calif., 3 and 1, while Campbell was eliminated by Andy Gard, of Wellesley Hills, Mass., 1-up. Hyndman lost 1 up to Dick Davies of Pasadena, Calif.

Today Lotz goes against C. A. Smith III of Jackson, Mich., who advanced via bye. Gard faces Dud Wyson, Jr., of McKinney, Tex., who also didn't play Monday, while Davies goes against Harton Semple of Sewickley, Pa., a 5 and 4 victor over Pandell Savic of Columbus, Ohio.

Ex-champions Jack Nicklaus, the Ohio State husky who won the 1959 title as a 19-year-old, and two-time winner Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City see their first action today. Nicklaus faces Dr. Donald Krieger of Portland, Ore. Coe, champion in 1949 and 1958, meets John Nichols of Downey, Calif.

Ex-champs advancing via victories were Harvie Ward of San Francisco, downing Vanderbilt student George Creagh 5 and 4, and Congressman Jack Westland of Everett, Wash., who beat Canadian Keith Alexander by the same margin.

Chick Evans, 71, Chicago veteran playing his 49th national tournament and winner in 1916 and 1920, lost his match 5 and 4 to former University of Illinois football and golf star, Jim McCarthy.

Eighth Inning Triple Decisive For Cole Camp

A triple in the eighth inning with two men on base gave the Cole Camp softball team an 18-14 triumph over the LaMonte Vikings in a game played at LaMonte Monday night.

The blast came off the bat of James Schnakenberg after the score had been tied in the eighth inning.

The Cole Camp girls had to stay on the field only three innings to whip LaMonte's lady ball-players 15-4. The game was called at the end of the third inning due to the fact Cole Camp had collected more than a 10-point lead. Schnakenberg took the win for Cole Camp, while Helen Neth was the loser.

Winner of the boy's game, which went into the extra inning because of the tie, was Vannoy, of Cole Camp, one of three pitchers sent to the mound. Loser was Toby Blakely, who pitched in his second game of the season.

LaMonte's girls experienced their first loss of the season in Monday's outing. They've won two. The boys have yet to win their first game.

Girls' game:
Cole Camp ..... 4 5 6-13
LaMonte ..... 1 3 0-4
Boys' game:
Cole Camp ..... 103 406 04-18
LaMonte ..... 109 200 20-14

er leading off the 11th inning that beat the Philadelphia Phillies 6-5 Monday night and moved the second-place Dodgers within 3½ games of the Reds, who were idle.

Windhorn's game-winner broke the Dodgers' three-game losing streak, kept them only one game back in the lost column that has become the key to their hopes of overtaking Cincinnati and ended a brilliant pitching performance by Don Ferrarese.

Ferrarese had hurled seven innings of no-hit relief and stretched his shutout string to 22 innings when Windhorn, brought up from Omaha in mid-season, whacked his first major league homer and fourth hit in 16 at bats.

Fourth-place San Francisco gained ground on third-place Milwaukee by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 in 10 innings on Felipe Alou's homer while the Braves were losing 4-1 to St. Louis.

In the only American League games, Boston mauled Washington 14-4 and Minnesota beat Los Angeles 5-2.

The Phils, trailing 5-1 after three innings, rocked starter Johnny Podres in the fourth for three runs on Lee Walls second homer of the night and Bob Malkmus' two-run single after the Dodger left-hander had filled the bases on walks. Charlie Smith's home run in the seventh tied it.

Ron Perranoski, (7-5), third Los Angeles pitcher, picked up the win, blanking the Phils for four innings before the Dodgers finally got to Ferrarese (4-10).

Jack Sanford (11-8) went all the way for the Giants, keeping the bases clear of Pirates by retiring the last 15 men he faced after Dick Stuart tagged him for homer No. 27 and tied it 3-3 in the sixth. Alou was the first man reliever Elroy Face (6-9) pitched to when he came on for starter Alvin McBean, who left for a pinch hitter.

Larry Jackson (13-9) checked the Braves on six hits and now has won five in succession and 10 of 11 decisions since Johnny Keane replaced Solly Hemus as Cardinal manager in July. The Cards clinched it in the sixth against Lew Burdette (16-10) when Ken Boyer and Stan Musial, both 3-for-4, singled and scored on Carl Sawatski's pinch-hit single after a walk loaded the bases.

Dodgers Get Their Feet In the Door

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The desperate Dodgers have one foot in the door instead of the grave today because rookie Gordon Windhorn called his shot and delivered the first home run of his major league career.

The 11th-inning drive into the Coliseum's left-field seats brought Los Angeles a 6-5 victory over Philadelphia Monday night and, in an instant, reduced a brilliant pitching performance by Don Ferrarese to wreckage.

It also cut idle Cincinnati's lead over the second-place Dodgers to 3½ games.

Ferrarese had pitched seven innings in relief without allowing a hit and had a 1-and-2 count on Windhorn when the Dodger outfielder hit his homer.

Dodger infielder Daryl Spencer said Windhorn told him before leaving the dugout and going to bat:

"I'm going to hit one out of here and win this game."

Windhorn has had only 16 at-bats for the Dodgers all season. "He hasn't been in many games," said Manager Walt Alston, "but he's already won for us."

Alston readily acknowledged the Dodgers have a considerable piece of ground to cover. They have 18 games to play and Cincinnati has 13. If the Reds play at about their present pace and win 8 of the 13, the Dodgers will have to win 14 of 18 just to gain a tie.

Players Out Of Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Big Eight Conference players are out of action indefinitely because of fractures suffered in Saturday's squad games.

Kansas State's senior tackle, Tom Brettschneider, broke a hand and is out for at least six weeks and possibly the entire season.

The only veteran quarterback at Oklahoma State, Jim Elliott, broke an arm and is through for the year.

That leaves coach Cliff Speegle relying on two sophomores, Mike Miller and Bill Leming, to direct the Oklahoma State attack. Both are good passers and they may add the aerial threat that the Cowboys lacked last year.

Speegle has two fast halfbacks in Jim Dillard, the 1960 fullback, and sophomore Ray Wesley, who can run the 100 in 9.6 seconds. So the Cowboys may come up with some power sweeps also.

Oklahoma State's line should be tough again. Last year the Cowboys yielded only 126 points in 10 games. The only sophomore likely to start is Mike Upton, a center.

Frank Parker and Gary Cut-singer are rated highly as guards, and John Ed Gardner is a fine tackle. Speegle's big problem in the line is to find ends who can catch passes.

At Kansas State, coach Doug Weaver's casualty list, besides Brettschneider, included quarterback Larry Corrigan with a bruised back; halfback Jack Richardson, knee injury, and quarterback Harold Haun, torn rib cartilage.

The Saturday drill induced coach Jack Mitchell of Kansas to move Kent Converse to No. 1 center ahead of veteran Kent Staab, and Mike Deer to right end replacing Benny Boydston.

The Jayhawks' halfback Lee Flachsbarth and fullback Jim Jarrett, out for a week with injuries, are back in action on the No. 2 unit.

Missouri's coach, Dan Devine himself a victim of a weekend bout with the virus that has decimated his squad, recovered Monday in time to wind up the twice-a-day drills with a full workout.

The scrimmage at Norman earned promotions to Oklahoma's first string for Karl Miltstead, right guard, and center Johnny Tatum.

Rain may wash out scrimmages coach Bill Jennings had planned for his Nebraska Cornhuskers for today and Thursday. Jennings said he is reluctant to tear up the stadium's softened turf. He said a knee operation has put Lyle Sittler's sophomore center, out for the season.

Iowa State, preparing for its opener with Drake Saturday, worked on defense against freshmen who used Drake formations.

Little, Picard Named To Hall of Fame

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Lawson Little and Henry Picard, golf greats of pre-World War II days, have been elected to the PGA Hall of Fame in a nationwide poll of professional golfers.

Little, 52, perhaps the game's top amateur match player received 482 votes. Picard, 55, pro at the Canterbury Golf Club, Cleveland, Ohio, got 431.

Other high on the list in the balloting included Johnny Farrell, 416 votes; Bobby Cruickshank, 341; John Revolta, 279; Olin Dutra, 277; Ed Dudley, 248; Billy Burke, 208; and Joe Kirkwood Sr., 135.

PGA President Lou Strong, in announcing the outcome of the voting, said Little and Picard would be inducted formally into the Hall of Fame Nov. 7.

Little, now retired and living at Pebble Beach, Calif., won the U.S. and British Amateur championships in 1934 and 1935. He won 32 consecutive match play victories during the mid-1930s. He turned pro in 1936 and four years later defeated Gene Sarazen in a play-off for the U.S. Open.

Picard won the PGA Championship in 1939 and finished as runner-up on two occasions. He won the Masters Championship in 1938 and led all money winners on the PGA tour the next year. He also finished as runner-up for money winning honors in 1935 and 1937. He was a Ryder Cup team member three times.

The 6-foot-8 center from Denver told Coach Doyle Parrack Monday he intends to complete his five year engineering course at Colorado State University.

Etheridge, second high Sooner scorer last season with a 10.9 point average, won't be eligible to play at Colorado State until the 1962-63 season.

the chase for Babe Ruth's home run record and the American League pennant resumes tonight. After a one-day respite, the M&M homer hammerers move into Chicago with 10 games in an eight-day period remaining in which to tie or surpass the Bambino's home run record of 60 under the 154-decision allotment decreed by Commissioner Ford Frick.

Maris, with 56 homers, is four games ahead of Ruth's record pace of 1927, while Mantle, with 53, has fallen two behind for the showdown stretch—night games at Chicago tonight and Wednesday and a day tilt Thursday, a twi-nighter at Detroit Friday followed by day contests Saturday and Sunday, a twi-nighter at Baltimore Tuesday, and a night game Wednesday.

The Yankees, leading the runner-up Detroit Tigers by 11½ games, need any combination of eight wins or Detroit losses to wrap up their 11th pennant in the last 13 years and the first for rookie Manager Ralph Houk.

Maris, who has found White Sox pitching the easiest in his chase with Ruth—he has tagged 13 against Chicago hurlers — and Mantle will be hitting against lefty Billy Pierce (9-8), the only AL moundsmen to surrender two homers to Maris in one game. Ralph Terry (13-2) goes for New York.

Mantle, who has hit 29 homers on the road to 24 at Yankee Stadium was looking forward to the road battles. But Maris, who has hit half away and half at home, expressed indifference to his surroundings.

The Yankees, riding a 12-game winning streak, and the Tigers sat it out Monday, maintaining the status quo at the top of the standings. In the only games played, Boston walloped Washington 14-4, and Minnesota beat Los Angeles 5-2.

In the National League, Gordon Windhorn's pinch-hit homer in the 11th inning gave Los Angeles Dodgers a 6-5 victory over Philadelphia, and moved the Dodgers within 3½ games of idle, first-place Cincinnati.

San Francisco edged Pittsburgh 4-3 in 10 innings and St. Louis defeated Milwaukee 4-1.

The Red Sox snapped a 4-4 tie in the seventh with an eight-run explosion after they had tied it on Jim Pagliaroni's sixth inning homer.

The Twins scored four in the eighth to beat the Angels and rookie Dean Chance, making his pitching debut in the majors.
